

Dewey Into South In Campaign

At Charleston, W. Va., Pictures Administration In "Double Talk"

By GARDNER BRIDGE
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 7.—(P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey pictured tonight the Democratic administration of President Roosevelt as engaging in double talk through speaking on one hand about government ownership of factories and simultaneously disavowing Communist supporters.

The Republican presidential nominee, making his answer to President Roosevelt's address of Thursday night, related in his prepared text that the President had "softly" denied that he welcomed the support of any persons or groups committed to Communism or Fascism.

But, asked Dewey, "doesn't this soft disclaimer come a trifle late?" in view of the recent statement of Earl Browder in New York that "the election of my (Dewey's) opponent essential to his aims."

In an address prepared for his second visit to the West Virginia capital in four years, Dewey asked:

"How can we trust our future to an administration which talks out of one side of its mouth about government ownership of our factories, while out of the other side of its mouth it softly disavows its Communist supporters?"

For Coal Stabilization
Earlier, after a press conference, the New York governor, as a visitor to the nation's greatest bituminous coal producing state, declared himself for legislation to stabilize the industry.

"I have long favored legislation to stabilize the coal industry to prevent the return of ruinous cut-throat competition," he said without specific reference to the now-expired control acts under which the industry operated for years.

He also said, in answer to a question put after the press conference, that he was confident that coal has a secure future.

Although Dewey turned aside a press conference question as to his attitude on the support of United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis, a group of UMW leaders came away from a meeting with the nominee, expressing themselves as "decidedly satisfied" with him.

Dewey held that the Lewis support had not been proffered to him and any questions about it would be "academic."

A few hours later, however, President George J. Titler of United Mine Workers district 29 left a conference, saying that his union would be "much better off if Dewey becomes president" and that "I think the United Mine Workers can support him wholeheartedly."

Dewey in his prepared address asserted that it has become "dreadfully clear" that President Roosevelt's administration is "too tired even to do the job at hand."

Therefore, he contended, that same administration "is obviously too tired for the job ahead."

A Republican victory in November, Dewey added, "will mean an end to a very, very tired administration in Washington."

Dewey, asking "why is my opponent's election so essential to the aims of the Communists?" declared "the answer is right in the record of this administration."

Chicanery Is Accusation By Harry Truman

Senator Asserts GOP Leaders Garble Reports

By CHARLES NUTTER
CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Oct. 7.—(P)—Senator Harry S. Truman, Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate, today accused the Republican national standard bearers of "demagoguery and chicanery" in current campaign speeches, and said it would be serious and dangerous "to take a chance on creating distrust with our Allies by placing an inexperienced leader" in the White House.

Truman, in a speech prepared for delivery before the American Legion fair here at which he has appeared annually since 1934 said the Republican standard bearers had made barbed quotations from a speech delivered by President Roosevelt Oct. 5, 1937 had left words and sentences out of their proper context and have deliberately misrepresented the facts.

"I consider this the lowest form of political chicanery and I am very sure that the American people cannot be fooled by any such form of dishonesty," Truman said.

He also charged that the reports and recommendations of his investigating committee "have been garbled and have been made to appear as partisan criticism of the administration, when in fact the committee efforts were in cooperation with the administration, and for the welfare and benefit of the fighting men of the country."

"I don't believe the American people can be fooled by any such demagoguery and chicanery," he continued.

Errors Pointed Out
He preceded this denunciation with the statement that "the candidate for Vice-President on the Republican ticket has been endeavoring to show that because I was chairman of the investigating committee, that I have made an attempt to impeach the administration in its conduct of the war."

Truman said his committee pointed out errors which were corrected, and that President Roosevelt was consulted and wholeheartedly approved the committee's work. This committee he stated, had been credited with saving billions of dollars, and countless lives, "in its discovery of faulty equipment which was being made by dishonest contractors."

The war is being won, Truman stated, but is not yet won, he added that "it would be a very serious and dangerous matter to take a chance on creating distrust with our Allies by placing an inexperienced leader at the helm of the government of the United States at this time."

He charged that the isolationist gained control under Warren G. Harding and are still alive in the Republican party and are making every effort to obtain control of the government again.

Continuance Hearing Oct. 13

The application for the continuance of the trial of Edgar Holland, charged with the murder of his wife, Mollie Mattie Holland, from October 23, to a later date, probably the January term of court, will be heard in the Pettis county circuit court, at 9:00 o'clock the morning of October 13, before Judge W. M. Dinwiddie, of Columbia.

The continuance was asked for by the state, through L. J. Harney, prosecuting attorney of Pettis county, who stated in his written request, the state attorneys are seeking a witness who is in Texas, and they cannot have him here and be ready for trial by the 23rd. The witness is one who took fingerprints of the deceased woman, when she was employed in a defense plant in Texas.

Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, circuit judge of Pettis county in whose court the application was filed, stated he is not feeling well, and called Judge Dinwiddie in to conduct the hearing.

Fred F. Wesner, attorney for Holland, is opposing the continuance, stating his client is ready for trial and are asking that it be held on the date set.

District 36, OES Purchases Mercy Train

Project Completed Under Leadership Mrs. Everett White

The Thirty-sixth District, Order of Eastern Star of Missouri, under leadership of Mrs. Everett White, district deputy grand matron, has contributed $1,190 for the purchase of equipment for ward cars of overseas hospital trains. This sum will buy a complete hospital unit for a ward car.

Mrs. Everett White

The idea for the project was conceived by Mrs. Johanna Schirmer, of St. Joseph, worthy grand matron, of the state of Missouri, after conferring with army officials in Washington and learning of the need for this type of hospital equipment. The train is a complete hospital unit, fully equipped, including operation room, which evacuates wounded from the front lines to the base hospital.

This district is comprised of chapters in Chilhowee, Cole Camp, Holden, Knob Noster, Leeton, Warsaw, Warrensburg, and Pettis and Sedalia chapters in Sedalia. To attend Grand Chapter

Mrs. White leaves today for St. Louis to attend the Grand Chapter session of O. E. S. The presentation of equipment for war cars to the United States government will be made at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, October 10.

Mrs. White is very appreciative of the splendid cooperation on the part of all who contributed to this worthwhile cause, and who helped to reach the objective, to take the 36th district "over the top" in its effort to help the boys and girls "over there."

Sedalia chapter No. 57 O. E. S. went over the top in contributions for the Mercy Train.

Sedalia chapter has a membership of 400 and has contributed $564.00 which is more than 100 per cent on the $1 per member canvass.

Condition Of Willkie Serious

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(P)—The condition of Wendell L. Willkie who has been in a hospital since Sept. 6, became critical tonight and he has been placed in an oxygen tent "as an additional therapeutic measure," Lemuel Jones, the 1940 Republican presidential candidate's secretary, announced.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(P)—The condition of Wendell L. Willkie, who has been in a hospital since September 6, took a turn for the worse tonight, his physician said, and the 1940 Republican presidential candidate's condition is serious.

The physician, Dr. Benjamin Salzer, said a streptococcal infection from which Mr. Willkie has been suffering had affected the heart muscles, resulting in an acute cardiac condition.

"We are continuing to administer penicillin," said Dr. Salzer, "but I would say that his condition is serious."

Willkie, who is 52, rallied after a severe throat infection Wednesday night and had shown steady improvement until tonight.

Roosevelt To Address Dinner

To Give It In New York On October 21

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(P)—President Roosevelt accepting an invitation to address a dinner of the Foreign Policy Association in New York Oct. 21, today scheduled his first speech outside Washington since he formally opened his fourth term campaign.

The speech will take Mr. Roosevelt to New York state, biggest prize in the electoral college with 47 votes, just 17 days before the election.

Whether the address will be classed by the White House as political in nature was a question which went unanswered for the time being. Mr. Roosevelt's aids declined to amplify an announcement which consisted of making public the invitation from Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, president of the association, and the President's acceptance.

The speech will be broadcast, Democratic headquarters said.

However, the Foreign Policy Association always has emphasized its non-partisan nature. A private research organization, it was founded 26 years ago with the announced aim of fostering understanding and development of foreign policy.

Dewey Also Invited

In New York, General McCoy announced that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the President's Republican opponent, also had been invited to address the association "at any time that suits his convenience either in New York or at any of our 25 branches throughout the country."

Earlier, Dewey was invited specifically to address an association forum in New York today but his office declined the invitation because of previous engagements, a spokesman for the FPA said.

Both Dewey and the President sent messages to the association forum where were made public today in New York.

Dewey said formation of a world peace-maintenance organization is being sought now "on a bi-partisan basis." He added that bi-partisan approach will continue "for I am sure that President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull can be counted on to extend to a Republican administration the same cooperation that the Republican party is offering them today."

In his message, the President said "much progress" had already been achieved toward creation of an international security organization. The Foreign Policy Association, he added, could "serve our country well" by continuing to direct public attention to the objectives of such an agency.

Security Plan Near Complete

Be Made Public Monday By Four Big Powers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(P)—A master design for world security was formally concluded at Dumbarton Oaks today.

But from the time it is made public Monday by the American, Russian, British and Chinese governments until it is finally acted on by each of the United Nations months later it probably will be subjected to sharp world wide debate and criticism.

However, Undersecretary of State Stettinius, winding up the conference, predicted that the United States, Russia, Britain, and China would "take early steps" to complete a four power plan for world security organization.

Addressing the closing session, Stettinius said the plan would be critically received but eventually would be accepted by all peace loving peoples.

Except for the issue of whether a major power on the top council of the proposed peace agency should have veto power on an accusation of aggression against itself, the plan for world security organization is substantially complete.

Somewhat Like League

In broad outline the design is somewhat similar to that for the League of Nations, consisting of an assembly of all nations and a council of a few, including permanent membership for the great powers. Still unsettled is the crucial issue of voting on questions of aggression when some nation threatens to start a war.

The voting machinery could not be finally fitted together because Russia desired to retain a veto power over any charge of aggression which might be brought against her.

The opening phase of the British, Russian and American talks, lasted six weeks, about twice as long as originally scheduled, prolonged by the argument over a big powers right of veto.

This controversy is said by some authorities to stem from Russia's suspicions of the rest of the world, the belief in Moscow that the rest of the world is suspicious of Russia, and the different approach of the Russians domestically as well as internationally to questions of judicial procedure and justice.

Proclamation

By virtue of my office, I hereby proclaim, the week of October 8 to 14, 1944, National Business Women's Week. I urge the citizens of our town to cooperate with the Business and Professional Women's club of Sedalia in observing this week.

"Art We Part-Time Citizens?" is the challenging theme of the week. It is a question that every citizen should ask himself. Dynamic citizenship requires work every working day of the year. A once-in-four-years citizen is not much good to himself or anyone else, for he has failed to observe that cardinal principle of citizenship, "Be alert in exercising your civic duty every day in the year."

How can a citizen be alert? The answer is plain, by knowing the men and women nominated for office, by watching government charged with local, state and federal administration. And by registering and voting, of course.

The Business and Professional Women's club have undertaken the task of making our responsibilities clear to us. May public interest be their reward.

A. H. WILKS, Mayor.

Soviet Tanks Overrun 300 Localities

Are 40 Miles In Pre-War Hungary In Advance

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(P)—Russian tank troops race 40 miles into pre-war Hungary overran 300 localities today, outflanking the country's second city of Szeged and striking within 75 miles of Budapest, imperilled Magyar capital, a Moscow communique announced tonight.

Rolling through crushed German and Hungarian resistance, mobile Red army units had almost reached the Koros river, the first of two water barriers which are the main obstructions toward their goal of swiftly knocking Hungary out of the Axis camp.

Big rail junction cities fell to the Russians, who were paced by armored units and Cossack cavalry which Moscow dispatches said were slashing easily through Axis resistance and by-passing large numbers of bewildered enemy troops at their mercy on the flat plains leading westward to Budapest and Austria beyond.

Danger To South Germany

Emphasizing the grave danger to southern Germany, a Yugoslav broadcast said Marshal Tito's Partisans had made contact with members of the "Austrian freedom front" on the Yugoslav-Austrian border.

To the south other Soviet forces moved swiftly through northern Yugoslavia, spearheading to within 20 miles of the southern Hungarian frontier and to within 30 miles of Szeged.

The Russian units in this invasion, aided by Marshal Tito's Partisans, were strengthening their grip on the Tisza river.

Other Soviet units striking across the eastern Serbian mountains below Belgrade were reported within 30 miles of the Belgrade-Nis railway.

Moscow announced simultaneously that Red army units had begun a great pincer movement on German East Prussia, attacking beyond Siauliai in western Lithuania, and also crossing the Narva river at Pultusk, 29 miles north of Warsaw.

A Berlin broadcast hinted at what Moscow has not yet told—that the Russians in this long dormant area—going over to the offensive with 200,000 troops—had penetrated within 20 miles of the northeastern corner of East Prussia.

Kill 12,211 Japs In The Palaus Since Sept. 15

Raid Is Made On Babelthup With Heavy Damage

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 7.—(P)—Marines and soldiers invading the Palaus have killed 12,211 Japanese and captured 224 since Sept. 15, day of the landings, the navy announced today.

On the air base island of Peleliu, 11,083 Japanese have been slain and 214 captured but the Nipponese still cling to one pocket of resistance at Umorogol mountain (Bloody Nose Ridge).

However, today's communique said American tanks and artillery had reduced that pocket in action Friday.

The other 1,128 Japanese slain and 10 captured fell victim to invaders of Angaur, south of Peleliu in the Palaus.

Operating from Peleliu's captured airfields, Marine Corsair planes ranged north in the Palaus to the Palaus to the big island of Babelthup Friday, damaging villages, 16 supply dumps, two buildings and 28 trucks and strafing three boats and seven barges.

The communique also reported maintenance of air action against the Kuriles north of Japan. Mitchell's bombers Paramushiro and Shimushu Tuesday, sinking a barge, fighting off 15 to 20 enemy planes probably destroying two and damaging two others.

Big Liberators also bombed Paramushiro.

Near the Palaus, a Navy search plane struck at Yap the same day.

Liberators dropped 33 tons of bombs on bypassed Truk in the central Carolines Thursday.

Shatter Defense Wide Open In A Breakthrough On Six-Mile Front

By ROBERT EUNSON

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Oct. 7.—(P)—Doughboys of the U. S. First army cracked German defenses wide open along a six-mile front north of Aachen today and swept up six German towns in a high-powered three-mile drive that encountered wilting resistance.

The American over-ran Beggen-dorf, Basweiler, Herbach, Merksteil, Hofstadt and Alsdorf as they hammered to a point five to six miles inside Germany in the onrush that was described by an American staff officer as a definite breakthrough. The U. S. troops are meeting less artillery fire and weaker opposition, field dispatches reported tonight.

Tanks, infantry, artillery and supplies poured into Germany through the gap torn by the Americans. Planes and tanks battered at the enemy as the U. S. advance units pressed ahead.

"This is definitely a breakthrough and not a withdrawal," a First army staff officer declared. "There still are defenses ahead of us, but we have driven through the main line of resistance in this sector."

Strike In Another Sector

The whole 460-mile front stirred restlessly. The U. S. Third army struck in the long-dormant Luxembourg sector, cleared Germans from virtually the entire Duchy, and was near the frontier town of Wormeldange due east of the capital on the Moselle river facing the Reich.

Thus two great American armies, the First and Third, were cementing their assault lines from Holland to northern France, but for the moment at least it was the First army which was driving toward the industrial heart of Germany along the Rhine and Ruhr.

The power drive, rolling over the bitterly-fought Pfah sector nine miles north of the historic invasion gateway to Germany at Aachen, overran the German town of Basweiler, severing one of two main roads leading 30 miles northeast to Dusseldorf and at the doorway to the rich Ruhr valley.

Shades of the WPA!

Harry Hopkins in an article in the American magazine says: "A constant reliance upon large-scale government spending, with resultant heavier taxes or continuing deficits and perhaps increased competition with private business, is not consistent with the continuation of our competitive system . . . we must look first to other means of achieving full employment. Government-financed public works must be supplementary to the effort of the people."

The people are glad to get Harry's new slant on the unemployment problem even if he did wait until political frogs' legs began hopping around on the griddle.

Most everyone will agree with Hopkins that "It is not going to be easy to attain and maintain full employment. It has not been achieved before, for any very extended period of time, without recurring depressions."

However, the full employment theme is a regular topic of the political candidates this season; making promises for the post war era with as much ease as breaking of a pie crust.

We would like to hear discussed the opinions of the candidates on one of the most perplexing problems of unemployment in the post war period—one that may become a veritable enigma, what to do with the women war workers.

Seven out of ten women war workers plan to continue working after the war, and want regular peacetime jobs, according to final tabulations from a war plants survey by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Nearly two-thirds of the married women declared their intention to seek postwar employment. Nineteen per cent of the women plan to go back to housekeeping.

Of course these women may exercise their inherent prerogative to change their minds come war's end. Certainly there will be public pressure for wives and mothers to return to the home, for women to step out of jobs in favor of returning veterans. But likely enough there will be plenty left in the job market to be a substantial factor in the post war employment situation.

Many will likely feel that since they disrupted their lives and personal habits in the war emergency, they should have a rightful part in the nation's permanent working force. Time alone will tell. In the meantime there is little likelihood political candidates will make any positive stand on this phase of the post-war dilemma. For the vote-getter the topic is as perilous as TNT.

Business Women Support Suffrage—

There will always be women in business and professional employment, a separate category from that of 18½ million female war workers, millions of whom must give way to returning veterans of the war.

This transition will not disturb a few hundreds of thousands of women in the business and professional field. True, some of these may change their status voluntarily by assumption of the role of housewives. But others will carry on as they did before the war holding definite places of responsibility in the business life of the nation.

These business and professional women have an organization known as the Business and Professional Women's club which today begins observance of National Business Women's Week. There is such a club in Sedalia, one of the community's most active civic clubs, too. Their membership is a part of the 80,000 in 1,700 clubs in all the states, the District of Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii.

This organization does not believe that either political party or any single men's organization has the sole obligation of persuading American citizens to register and vote in the coming national election. So, in observance of Business Women's Week they have adopted the theme: "Are We Part-Time Citizens?"

They have organized a Get-Out-The-Vote Campaign to stimulate the feeling of citizenship responsibility in government.

This year more than ever in its history the nation should make a definite expression at the polls concerning choice of leadership in the political fields. The choice should be so decisive that the minority on the losing side will bow to the will of the majority gracefully and become a part of an American united front in dealing with post-war domestic readjustments and international cooperation for world peace.

The course America takes depends upon intelligent rather than partisan suffrage. Yet neither can be exercised by stay-at-homes on election day.

Therefore it is commendable that the Business and Professional Women have made getting-out-the-vote an activity in observance of Business Women's Week.

Even a Fly Hath Its Value—

The next time you find a fly in your malt or soup don't curse it as one of the world's worthless creatures. Just remember that the legs and wings of flies, mixed with the pulp of superfine paper, give the finished product a peculiar and handsome pattern which is difficult to duplicate in any other manner. One might also marvel at the patience of the man whose task it was to pick off the wings and legs of a few thousand flies in the first experiment to discover their peculiar efficacy in paper making.

Speaking of Tablets—

Sailor: "Gimme a tablet."
Drug Clerk: "What kind of a tablet?"
Sailor: "A white one."
Drug Clerk: "What's the matter with you?"
Sailor: "Nothing, I want to write a letter home."

Suit Yourself Restrictions—

Remarked the chimney sweep as he read OPA injunctions against violating ceiling prices: "This is one time I can't soot myself."

The Battle of the Mezzanine—

A picturesque concluding episode of the Teamsters' Union meeting addressed by the nation's president was the hotel mezzanine brawl wherein "a group of men" surrounded two naval officers, one a bemuddled hero of the battles of Midway and 11 other engagements. Shortly after becoming infected with oratorical hypodermosis, the "group of men" demanded to know of the uniformed heroes who they would like to see elected in November, what the men aboard ships thought of the commander-in-chief, etc. Hemmed in and jostled, the navy men replied it was none of their business. The "group of men" became a bit feverish; one took a swing at a lieutenant commander; another hit a lieutenant in the eye.

The denouement came in a statement by White House secretary Stephen Early calling reports of the brawl "lies," followed the next day by a first hand account of the fracas by hospitalized Lt. Randolph Dickens, Jr., the Midway hero who got it in the left eye.

A memorial tablet should be placed in the hotel mezzanine inscribed: "Here 'lies' the ghost of a teamster-navy fracas."

The Changing Times—

Martha Washington kept 16 spinning wheels busy at Mount Vernon, and she made George's inauguration suit herself. Nowadays the president's wife keeps motor, train and airplane wheels spinning to suit herself and not FDR's inaugurations.

Nuts So Bad—

Luther Burbank grew chestnut trees that produced nuts when they were only six months old. It appears likely the New Deal will improve upon Burbank by producing a nationwide crop of nuts in less than six months if they keep planting their present variety of chestnuts.

Mild Flurry To Cash War Bonds—

A mild flurry of cashing-in war bonds occurred in many communities the first of last week when this convenience was inaugurated primarily for those who were in need of immediate funds.

Those who have bonds and are not in financial stress show no patriotic impulse when they ask to have bonds cashed merely to obtain money to buy another war bond in the coming Victory Loan campaign.

Hold onto your war bonds as long as you can.

Turning All Four Cheeks—

One of the anomalies of the present election campaign is that candidates of the New Deal running on the Democratic ticket can slap the voters in the southern states right smack in the face, kick them in the pants, and know positively that on election day these same southerners will go to the polls and vote for them.

Prepare To Vote—

The national election November 7 is certainly going to be important enough to invite your vote. If there is any question about your proper registration as a voter, you should look into it the next few weeks at the city clerk's office. Announcements will be made soon about official registration days. If you are a new resident or have changed ward residence check up on your situation. Everybody go to the polls next month. Don't be a vote slacker.

Both Just Keep Pecking Away—

After listening to the fulminant tirades of the politicians one finds nothing extraordinary about the fact that a woodpecker's tongue is longer than his head.

It Depends Upon The Button—

"Lady, hell will freeze over before you get a cab while you're wearing those Dewey buttons," a cab starter told a Chicago woman and her daughter. So they walked home.

Now if the taxicab management had said something nasty like that to a woman wearing a Roosevelt button, Attorney General Biddle would have come up like thunderous dawn the next day to file charges of monopoly or obstructing the war effort.

A Place For The Nazis—

Nazi leaders and sympathizers are reportedly preparing to "go underground" when the Allies take over Germany. After the rascals are dug out of the subsoil they should be rounded up and made to live the balance of their lives in the city of Worms.

So They Say

I am returning to America with an enormous respect for Russia's growing industrial power. The output of your industrial machine contributed measurably in saving the world from Nazi enslavement.—Eric A. Johnston, U.S. C. of C. president, to Stalin.

It's getting to be a different kind of world because modern invention has drawn us so close that we will be affected by anything that affects any other nation.—Eleanor Roosevelt.

We seek the closest strategic and material union between Britain, Australia and America. No life can be lived anywhere in the Pacific ocean without friendship. . . . between the three of us.—Sir Keith Murdoch, Australian editor.

Our enemies have made it cynically clear what fate awaits the nation in the event of the defeat they hope and strain for.—Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels.

In spite of prodigious and partially successful efforts to increase war production, the combination of blockade, the bomber offensive and continued fighting have left the Germans with a total supply of munitions today which must decline progressively in the coming months.—Foreign Economic Administration report.

The railroads pulled us out of the dislocation of the Civil War. The automotive industry turned the trick in the 1920's. It is therefore my hunch that it will be something new again—some X-expansion nobody can name for certain yet.—Ernest R. Breech, president Bendix Aviation Corp.

Merry-go-round

. . . by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—South Dakota's Rep. Karl Mundt and South Carolina's James Richards, returned last week from a five-week stay in England and France, praising the "horizontal" organization of the American army.

The supreme commander, Gen. Eisenhower, they reported is "like" to everyone, is available to hear the problems of his subordinates, is at all times considerate of his staff and the men under him.

Although every member of the army has a feeling of personal participation and responsibility, the congressman says, there is no question about authority. Eisenhower runs the show, but he runs it in such a way that everyone likes him for it.

Characteristic of Eisenhower is the address he made at a recent dinner party in London.

"My hat is off to the boys following through on the beaches and at Cherbourg," he said. "I mean the ordinary GI who's working ten hours a day on the most sweaty, unromantic job of the war—no glamor, no adventure, just long, hard days of long, hard labor at soldier's pay." He referred to the service battalions which have refitted the harbors and piers along the channel coast in order to facilitate shipment of supplies.

"Without those lads sweating it out over there, General Patton and the others who have been in the headlines could never have done the things they have done," General Eisenhower continued. "I don't mean to detract from the acclaim given the fighting men who've been running through the Nazis, but I am trying to figure out some way of recognition for these lads in the rear who keep the supplies moving. They'd love to be up in front facing the enemy, but their job is in the rear. What I'd like to get is some new kind of medal for these unsung heroes who are doing one of the toughest jobs in the war."

Victory For Morgenthau
Inside fact regarding the cabinet rift over the soft peace for Germany is that Secretary Morgenthau really scored a victory. Actually Morgenthau never had prepared any plan for Germany until he saw the Handbook for Military Governors prepared in London by army headquarters, with State Department guidance.

This handbook was so weak-kneed that President Roosevelt blew up when he saw it—as described by this columnist in the first story telling of the cabinet disagreement. It was only after this incident that Morgenthau decided to write out a plan that would force the State Department to wake up to the realities of the situation in Germany.

It was at this point that President Roosevelt demanded an immediate plan from the cabinet committee. However, the State and War Departments failed to put one together, and it was the Treasury alone which presented him a detailed program—a program which Morgenthau purposely made ultra-tough in order to put himself in a good position for trading off points with Secretaries Stimson and Hull.

That he succeeded was evident Friday when the White House released its directions to Leo Crowley's Foreign Economic Administration on the treatment of German economy after the war. Except for Morgenthau's own plan this was the first workable directive FEA has yet had. It commits our government to a much stronger policy than the

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1919 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she saw the behind-the-scenes preparation for the coming "war-in-peace" that she warns may culminate in World War III. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

VII

If we are to protect ourselves from Hitler's system we must thoroughly know his technique. There cannot be the slightest doubt that in the period of unrest and revolution following World War II, imitators of Hitler will spring up like toadstools all over the globe. His method seems almost a foolproof way to success for the man who can create enough uncertainty and chaos to make a bewildered people lose all sense of responsibility and initiative.

Soon after the Armistice of 1918, Hitler went to Bavaria to rejoin his regiment, possibly to be demobilized. His first step toward becoming a politician made him that lowest of political tools, an agent provocateur.

As a spy, Hitler first went to the little Bierstube where the Workers' Party met. Munich, the capital of the beer-drinkers of the world, with big and little saloons all over the city, had at least one political faction in every Bierstube. All the factions felt certain that they knew how to handle the problems of the day better than anyone in Berlin—a city to be distrusted anyhow, since it was inhabited by Prussians, whom every stout-hearted Bavarian hates.

Each little faction jockeyed for position with its neighbors, while the local leaders of the German army watched closely, intent on picking the winner for their support. One of their methods and luring officers, Capt. Ernst Roehm, was in Munich. With the funds of his old regimental purse, which anti-Republican industrialists replenished whenever necessary, Captain Roehm wanted to finance the most promising of the new parties to help him build up a new secret army, a Black Reichswehr.

In an army training course for speakers, Captain Roehm found Adolf Hitler. Spouting his hatred of Jews and Marxists, Hitler scored an instant success with his superiors and his comrades. He was less lucky with the Munich citizenry, until he worked out a technique of promising everything to everybody.

ALREADY Hitler had developed what is known in German initiated circles as his "als ob" or "as if" formula, based on the theory that you must act as if you already had what you wanted. Hitler spoke to the Munich mob as if he were a great political leader. In 1940, he boasted to his aides that he had successfully used this technique all his life. Then he ordered them to take all necessary measures as if Germany were at war with the United States.

When Hitler started out as an orator, anti-Semitism was the fashion of the day in Munich. Russian Communists, employing Russian Jews among their agitators for their knowledge of German, had made it possible for the anti-Semites to claim that all Jews in Germany were Communists. None was more deeply convinced than General Ludendorff, who was then directing the enemies of the Republic throughout Germany.

When Hitler ranted against "Jewish Marxists," his superiors decided that he would please General Ludendorff. They gave him special assignments that could be used to build up a future career.

The German Workers' Party assignment was one of these. A branch of the wartime pan-German Fatherland Party, it had risen from dissolution during the revolution to resume active work in January, 1919. Adolf Hitler went there to spy, and remained to lead. The German Workers' Party before very long became the hothouse of National Socialism. It was also the proving ground for the Hitler system.

WHO had money? Who had power? Capt. Ernst Roehm controlled the funds of the Black Reichswehr. The German Workers' Party contained a dynamic force malleable to Hitler's purpose.

The little men who ran the Workers' Party welcomed Hitler as a member, but they naturally wanted to keep leadership in their own hands. He flattered this one and that, telling them what great men they could be, if they just gave him a little more power. He had taken care to learn things about each one, and used the information to alienate them from each other in his own interest.

Hitler also pursued Captain Roehm with flattery. And Roehm responded to his glowing admiration. He liked the young soldier's "patriotic fervor" and his eloquence, which, even when the grammar was faulty, stirred his listeners. At first the other officers suspected that Hitler was just another abnormal friend of the captain. Then they decided he had merely enlisted the "womanish technique" of all-out flattery. Hitler didn't mind what they thought, as long as he got what he wanted.

Hitler lavished promises both on the Workers' Party and on Captain Roehm. He made himself bold to create the vast secret army and the political machine his protector wanted. To the Workers' Party, Hitler promised many new members. He kept the promise, thanks to Captain Roehm, who ordered the soldiers and officers of his and other units to join the Party, with instructions always to side with Hitler. At first the Party leaders were delighted by the influx of new members. By the time they discovered the newcomers were to be used against them, it was too late.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Protegee Friends of Mrs. Roosevelt who haven't been enthusiastic over her association with Negro leaders are now saying, "I told you so."

They have always argued that Negroes, despite all the advantages received under the Roosevelt administration, would turn against the president. Now they point to one of Mrs. Roosevelt's favorite Negro aides who has just turned tail on FDR and is vigorously working for Dewey. She is Crystal Bird Fauset, one-time social worker who rose to high office with the first lady's assistance during the past twelve years.

Under Mrs. Roosevelt's tutelage, Mrs. Fauset was made assistant state director of the Pennsylvania WPA in early New Deal days. Later the state Democratic machine helped elect her as the first female Negro member of the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Around Pearl Harbor time, Mrs. Fauset moved to Washington, became assistant to the director of the Office of Civilian Defense. The first lady frequently invited her to Hyde Park, later arranged that she transfer to the payroll of the Democratic national committee at $4,600 a year, the same salary Mrs. Fauset was getting in government. Despite all this, Crystal Bird has now flown the coop. She has gone to work for the GOP, is actively campaigning for the Dewey-Bricker ticket.

What burned Democratic headquarters most was the fact that they found out about Crystal Bird's resignation in the newspapers, learned also that she sat on the platform during Governor Dewey's Philadelphia speech, although she was still on the Democratic party payroll.

Mrs. Roosevelt, however, takes the view that the desertion of one sheep shouldn't condemn the whole flock.

memorandum prepared in May, 1939, by Adolph Berle, now assistant secretary of state, which Dewey quoted as saying: "Over a period of years, the government will gradually come to own most of the productive plants in the United States."

"That means, of course," Dewey declared, "a system where government would tell each of us where we could work, at what, and for how much."

"Now, I do not know whether my opponent calls that system Communism or National Socialism, or Fascism. He can take it any way he likes it. It's his program, not mine. But I do know it is not American system and it's not a free system."

Contending the "new deal is developing its own form of corporate state," Dewey said 55 government corporations or credit agencies with 27 billion dollars of assets were listed in a recent congressional committee report, and the federal government now operates one fifth of the manufacturing plants in the country.

The New York governor, making a sortie into a political border-line state, laid down a double barreled attack on the Roosevelt-Truman ticket. He declared "my opponent's hand picked running mate Harry Truman" was nominated "because he was 'cleared with Sidney'."

Referring to Sidney Hillman, head of the CIO Political Action Committee, Dewey said Hillman's performance as co-chairman of the Office of Production Management had led Truman, as chairman of a senate investigating committee, to say:

"If Mr. Hillman cannot or will not protect the interest of the United States, I am in favor of replacing him with someone who can and will."

"Need House Cleaning" Amplifying remarks in a brief rear platform speech in Hinton, Va., enroute to the municipal auditorium here, Dewey said:

"We need a house cleaning in Washington. We need clear lines of authority with competent men to carry out their jobs. We need team work in our government. That's why it's time for a change."

"The American people," he said, "have succeeded in the face of every difficulty in sending overwhelming supplies to our armed forces. With a new administration we can speed victory and also be ready for reconversion to peace-time jobs."

Charge "Bungling" Attributing "bungling, fumbling and incompetence" to the present administration, Dewey reiterated that his election would mean no change in the military leadership of the war. He said:

"Just for a moment let's look at the way this tired administration bungled its way into conversion for war production. Then we will know how well they can convert for peace and for jobs."

"In August, 1939, more than six years after Hitler came to power, Mr. Roosevelt finally created a War Resources Board under Edward R. Stettinius. It worked for three months and brought in a report.

"But the report was buried and the board quietly died. The report is still a secret after five years. Like so many other things, we will never know about it until a new administration opens the record of these past twelve years."

Dewey, who arranged to return to New York tonight directly after his speech here, continued his direct attack on President Roosevelt by declaring:

"And what has been the answer of the new deal to the specific proposals of our platform and the detailed statements of policy I have made on the radio in these recent weeks? We have heard nothing but glittering generalities, ghost of the dead past and wise cracks. We have heard no answer because my opponent has no answer."

In his speech of last Thursday, Dewey said, Mr. Roosevelt "softly denies that he welcomes the support of any person or group committed to Communism, or Fascism."

Comes "Trifle Late" "Now, that is news," the GOP candidate went on. "But doesn't this soft disclaimer come a trifle late? Only last week in Madison Square Garden Earl Browder, the head of the Communist party in America, proclaimed to 15,000 cheering adherents that the election of my opponent was essential to his aims."

"This is the same Earl Browder, now such a patriot, who was convicted as a draft dodger in the last war, convicted again as a perjurer and pardoned by Franklin Roosevelt in time to organize the campaign for his fourth term. The soft disclaimer does come a little late."

GOP Women Will Not Meet Tuesday The regular meeting of the Republican Women's club, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, has been called off because of other Republican meetings during the week.

GASTRIC HYPERACIDITY

There are dozens of remedies for hyperacidity, most of them are alkalies to neutralize the acid of the stomach. These alleviate the disagreeable symptoms but do not eliminate the cause but interfere with digestion of protein foods. Proteins such as meat, eggs, milk, peas, beans and some cereals are digested by pepsin in the stomach but pepsin only acts in an acid medium hence alkalies, which neutralize the acid, prevent the pepsin from digesting protein foods. This further upsets the digestive process and while you have obtained temporary relief, the cause of the hyperacidity is still there.

Chiropractors do not favor such methods because they do not eliminate the cause. Too much acid is caused by an overactivity of the parasympathetic nerves and unless the irritating condition is found and removed, which has overstimulated these nerves, there never will be a cure.

The normal function of every part is dependent upon normal nerve supply and it is the specialty of the chiropractor to locate the causes of disturbances in the nervous system and, if it is possible, remove them. It is the ONLY real cure. It is not symptomatic treatment to give temporary relief. It will not interfere with some other digestive process as the Alkali does with the pepsin. It restores NORMAL function.

Sedalian Sees His Home Town Mentioned in Papers

A letter was received today by the Democrat-Capital news department from James F. Glenn, a yeoman first class in the U. S. navy, who is stationed at Imperial Beach, Calif., in which he enclosed two clippings from the morning Los Angeles Examiner and the evening San Diego Tribune-Sun of October 2 in which Sedalia was mentioned.

One article was as follows: "Lieut. (jg) John Michael Clearly, 24, naval flier, of 1420 Third avenue, San Diego, has received official credit for having participated in the destruction of a Jap Zero fighter plane in a recent aerial battle, the Eleventh naval district reported today. He is a member of the 'Iron Angels,' the Fighting 14th air group based aboard a carrier. He teamed with his wingman, Ens. Richard Wertz, USNR of Sedalia, Mo., to demolish the Zero."

Ensign Wertz, referred to in the item, is the son of F. J. Wertz, 403 East Broadway.

The other clipping was one sent out from the Sedalia Army Air Field on October 1, in which two glider pilots, who had landed safely after being cut off from a C-47 towplane were greeted by a farmer with: "Got here soon as I could. I could tell your were in trouble because I couldn't hear your motors."

Young Glenn, who sent the clipping concerning his own home town, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Glenn, 1105 South Ohio avenue, and was formerly on the news staff of the Democrat-Capital.

Mrs. Lotspeich Improving
Mrs. Ollie Lotspeich, formerly of Beaman but now temporarily located near Adair, Okla., who fell in the yard recently and fractured her leg has been dismissed from the Whitaker hospital there and returned to her home. She will be confined to her bed for four weeks and will then go back to the hospital for X-ray examinations.

War Mothers Club Plans to Add Chapters

Met Wednesday Night at the Local USO Club

The Sedalia War Mothers club, with headquarters in the East Sedalia Baptist church, met Wednesday night at the USO club to discuss plans for setting up additional chapters in the city.

War mothers from the west side of the city had suggested that a chapter on their side of town might make meetings more accessible and thereby afford more women the opportunity to be members of the club. The American War Dads, under R. L. Weinrich, gave support to the suggested plan.

The meeting was chaired by Mrs. O. C. Blankenship, president of the East Sedalia War Mothers club. That club, being the oldest club in the city, has agreed to assist in forming other chapters in Sedalia and has called a meeting of all war mothers of the west side of Sedalia for this Sunday afternoon, October 8, at 2:30 o'clock in the library room of the USO club on Fifth street. At this time there will be an election of officers and general organization of this new chapter. All war mothers are cordially invited to this meeting.

To Add Units
Plans call for the formation of a council for all chapters of the city a little later on, which will include all the existing chapters (North Side, East Side and West Side clubs) plus others that may be formed later. Believing the chapter idea one that will afford opportunity for more war mothers to serve and conveniently attend meetings in their own neighborhoods, the East Sedalia War Mothers club have undertaken the sponsoring of forming additional chapters in the city and nearby communities.

Those wishing further information on plans are asked to contact members of the East Side club or telephone Mrs. A. R. Beach at the local USO club.

Wartime Lighting Suggestions

Clean lamp bulbs and reflector bowls regularly to get as much as 25% to 30% more light.
Keep lamp shades tight inside. Brush silk shades; if parchment, repaint or reline with white paper.
Turn off lamps not in use to help conserve electricity and critical materials used in bulbs.
Share the light. Arrange lamps and furniture so a lamp can serve two or more people, if necessary.
Pull lamp closer when you read or sew. A few inches farther away can mean as much as 50% less light.

Additional Society

A beautiful church wedding was solemnized at the Seventh-day Adventist church near Florence on Monday evening, September 11, at 7:30 o'clock, when Miss Mildred Elise Eldenburg, daughter of Mrs. Robert Eldenburg of Florence, Mo., became the bride of Mr. Howard Ferguson, son of Mrs. Mary Ferguson of Joliet Ill.

Before the ceremony Mr. Arnie Siegel sang, "O, Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Doreen Hartman.

Mrs. Harold Eldenburg, in a dress of pale blue, played Mendelssohn's Wedding March. She also played softly during the ceremony. Ushers were Miss Lucille Eldenburg and Miss Dorothy Ellen White, in pastel shades of blue and pink.

Misses Norma and Esther Brodersen, sisters, of Ottoville, and close friends and graduate nurses of the same training school of the bride, were candle lighters. Their dresses were of pink and blue taffeta.

Miss Esther Eldenburg of Nashville, Tenn., sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore an embroidered blue chiffon dress. She carried an arm bouquet of red rosebuds.

Little Barbara Ann Mertgen, as flower girl, wore a blue lace dress trimmed in pink and scattered rose petals down the aisle ahead of the bride.

Mr. Harold Ferguson, of Joliet, Ill., served his brother as best man.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Harold Eldenburg of Florence, who gave her in marriage. She wore a floor length dress of white net over satin with finger-tip veil and carried an arm bouquet of red rosebuds and tiny white chrysanthemums.

Both the mothers, Mrs. Eldenburg and Mrs. Ferguson, wore black with corsages of white gardenias.

Before an altar and arch banked with ferns and gladioli amid lighted tapers, Rev. P. L. Williams, of Kansas City, read the wedding ceremony.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where a large number of relatives and friends had gathered.

The home was decorated with pink, white and light blue crepe paper. A three tier wedding cake with miniature bride and groom was served with other refreshments to the guests.

Mrs. Ferguson is a graduate of the Stover high school in the class of 1938 and a graduate of the William Mason Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Murray, Ky. For the past six months she has been employed at the Bothwell hospital in Sedalia.

Mr. Ferguson is a graduate of the Joliet, Ill., high school and for the past year and a half has been employed by the Cole Chemical company of St. Louis. He is now a student in the Kansas City Western Dental college in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will reside at 2762 Charlotte in Kansas City.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams was observed Sunday at their home in Ottoville and was attended by their seven children.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were married 50 years ago at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Fowler, six miles south of Syracuse, by the Rev. R. H. Driskell.

Open house was held from 3 to 5 o'clock when neighbors and friends called to extend good wishes. The T. E. L. Sunday school class of the Baptist church, of which Mrs. Williams is a member, attended in a body.

Among those present from out-of-town were their daughter, Mrs. Eugene Wolf, and Mrs. George Chamberlain of Sedalia, whose husbands are in the armed forces; Mr. and Mrs. John Holman, Sedalia; and their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams and family, Pilot Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. George Williams and family, near Clifton City; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams and family, Ottoville; a sister, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. W. H. Hatfield and Mr. Hatfield, Syracuse; two brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowler, Syracuse; and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fowler, Sedalia.

Of the 21 grandchildren, several boys are in the army—Cpl. Wilton Williams has been in Africa two years, Pvt. James Williams is stationed at Camp Robinson, Ark., and Paratrooper Melvin Wolf and Pvt. Eugene Holman, whose addresses were not given.

BABY DIET DISCOVERY
Sensational Milk Discovery Proves Boon to Mothers
Bulletin
Kansas City, Mo.—Doctors report many cases of infant feeding, difficult to handle, now respond readily to a Vitamin D enriched homogenized milk of remarkably improved flavor.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Authoritative tests show essential natural milk minerals and vitamins in proper balance are safely retained through new secret methods of processing and evaporation. This process also makes possible highly successful, scientific enrichment in Vitamin D, adding 325 USP units of Vitamin D per 14½ ounces.

Beneficial results in baby formulas are further increased by more easy digestibility, assured by complete homogenization. Mothers find babies thrive on the greater nutrition derived. Babies usually accept this improved evaporated milk more readily because of its pleasing, satisfying taste.

Complete sterilization assures absolute safety, normally a most serious problem for mothers. A further safeguard to baby's welfare is the exact scientific uniformity in full nutritional value of this marvelous milk.

According to dairy authorities and pediatricians this new discovery in milk improvement is the most outstanding advancement in America's No. 1 basic food since pasteurization.

Development of this food to its present perfection has been carried on over a period of years by skilled dairy chemists and technicians in the laboratories of the Producers Creamery Co., Springfield, Mo., the milk development and marketing division of the great Missouri Farmers Association, reputed the largest of its kind in the United States, in the heart of a rich dairying country.

This improved product is known as homogenized DARICRAFT Evaporated Milk. Its sensational betterments in taste, vitamin content, and uniformity of quality, as well as its greater convenience and economy, make DARICRAFT equally valuable for all household uses and for infant feeding. Older children enjoy its flavor, too. It blends with and adds to the natural flavor of all cooked foods, cereals, coffee, desserts and fruits.

So popular and famous has this product become that practically all grocery stores can usually provide you with DARICRAFT, although civilian supplies are curtailed by heavy government demands for war time needs.

Missouri Tigers In Defeat of Kansas State By 33 To 0

Dellastatious Led M. U. In Two Touchdowns On Wildcats

MANHATTAN, Kas., Oct. 7.—(P)—Bill Dellastatious, 165 pound back who is as elusive as an echo—and almost as fast—led the Missouri Tigers to a convincing 33-0 victory today over Kansas State in the first conference foot ball game for the Big Six.

Dellastatious, a Washington, D. C. lad who played freshman ball at Clemson before the navy grabbed him, scored two touchdowns and had a major part in a couple of others. He has a medical discharge, but he looked wonderfully healthy to a rufel Kansas State crowd who saw the game in perfect weather.

Dellastatious wasted no time in showing the K-State Wild Cats his tricks. Missouri took the opening kick off and was off, with a fancy 56-yard touchdown run by Dellastatious on the sixth play of the game. He also contributed a 32 yard gallop that set up the fourth touchdown, which he himself made from seven yards out.

Paul Collins, a Columbia, Mo., boy, was the other leading light for Missouri, chipping in a couple of touchdowns on runs of three and nine yards. And one of these was made possible by a 16 yard jaunt by the ubiquitous Dellastatious, who enrolled at Missouri because an aunt lived in the neighborhood, to the great joy of the Missouri coaching staff. Robert Hopkins contributed the fifth touchdown in the last quarter after the Missouri reserves had taken over. All three of the extra points were place-kicked by the 273 pound James Kekeris.

Threat By Opponent
Kansas State's one big moment came in the kickoff following the third touchdown. It used the old criss-cross play, with Dana Atkins handling the ball to Ronnie Webster, who streaked 64 yards to the Missouri 17. And guess who stopped what looked like a certain K-State touchdown? You're right, chum, Dellastatious.

Smith-Cotton Beats St. Peters Saints

Game Was Played In Jefferson City On Friday Night

The Smith-Cotton Tigers played their first victorious game Friday night, walking away with a score of 25 to 0 over the St. Peter's High School team in Jefferson City on the Public stadium gridiron.

Gordon Capes scored the first touchdown carrying the ball 20 yards and Don Johnson made the second in a dash of 80 yards. Capes again scored for the Tigers running 15 yards.

Catching the ball in the end zone, Raymond "Dusty" Harmon caught a 20 yard pass and scored the fourth touchdown.

With a score of 0 to 0 at the half, the Tigers did all their scoring in the later periods of the game.

Coach John Ligon said that the boys were scuffed up a lot in the first half and also in the second, but that the game was a good one and that none of the boys were injured.

It was the Tigers first victorious game, they lost their first one to the Marshall Owls in Marshall 2 to 0, and the second one to the Kemper Military Academy's team in Sedalia with a score of 13 to 0.

With the first half ending in a 0 to 0 deadlock, and the St. Peters Saints putting up strong resistance to the Smith-Cotton squad, the Tigers opened up the third quarter with a touchdown made by Gordon Capes in a 20 yard dash, and they continued to score throughout the remainder of the game, ending the battle with a 25 to 0 victory over the Saints in Jefferson City Friday night on the Public School Stadium gridiron.

Shortly after the starting whistle the Saints advanced to the Sedalia 18 yard line, lost the ball on a fumble, and the rest of the first quarter was nip and tuck with neither team getting away from the center of the field.

The Saints, on their way on a touchdown drive late in the second quarter however were halted by the whistle ending the quarter.

The drive started on their own 35 yard line, advanced into Tiger territory, and Kleene nabbed a pass which took the Saints to the Tiger 10, ending the quarter with Diemler advancing two more yards for the Saints.

Johnson Makes Touchdown

After making their first touchdown early in the second quarter from their own 35 yard line, Don Johnson, halfback, scored the next touchdown on a 70 yard run through the entire Saints line.

Capes then crashed the Saint line for the extra point, making the score 13 to 0 in favor of Sedalia.

Gordon Capes again tallied for the Tigers with a 50 yard run and making the score 19 to 0 at the end of the third quarter.

Catching the ball in the end zone, Raymond "Dusty" Harmon, caught a 20 yard pass from Capes, and scored the fourth touchdown, and losing the extra point in kicking, the game ended 25 to 0.

Sport Scraps

(By D. KELLY SCRUTON)

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, St. Louis, Mo.—Probably the most interesting remark to be made by any of the Sedalia fans on hand to see this thrilling series between the fitful and unpredictable Browns—And I mean Browns—and Cardinals, was that of Charles J. McEniry, who said after the Thursday game, "It took the Irish to pull the Cardinals through in a pinch—Donnelly and O'Dea."

Of course looking back over the game it was Donnelly and O'Dea who played a big part in winning the game. After it was tied up in the seventh by the Browns, Donnelly took charge and stopped the foolishness and then in the eleventh after Sanders singled, Kurovski sacrificed then Marion was walked, O'Dea was sent in by Manager Southworth as a pinch hitter and he came through with a well-timed single to score Sanders, and break up the game.

Then Thursday night, the first game of the series was reshaped, the game which the Cards won was given some discussion—mingled in with the bridge game being played. The "Ifs and Whens" on various plays were given much attention—but they don't win or lose ball games after they have been played.

As one sports writer said in the press section Friday—"there aren't enough adjectives to describe those Browns"—while a number of Cardinal supporters sitting in back of the press section took away some of their money which they had bet—even to giving odds the Cards would win.

As a matter of fact the air in various sections of the stands where Cardinal backers were sitting appeared to have a blue haze. But to listen to the crowd at the game, it appeared most of it was backing the Browns.

One lone and piercing voice near our section would scream intermediately—"You lonely Browns pour it on!"—and they did.

DURING the sports writers' get-together at the Jefferson Hotel, Wednesday and Thursday night and at the Chase Hotel Friday night, I had the pleasure of meeting many of the "big wigs" of sports writers, as well as owners, and operators of base-stations regarding baseball figures of present-day and days of the past, too many and too numerous to mention.

To me, the most interesting writer I had the pleasure of meeting was Grantland Rice, who has been writing sports since I was in knee pants. He talks of Babe Ruth, Jack Dempsey, Walter Hagen, "Red" Grange, and so many sports figures they are too numerous to mention. Incidentally Rice is planning a feature story in the near future on those athletes who are and were the big drawing cards in their respective sports. I am sure the article will be most interesting.

Also we did have a mutual friend in Colonel Stonewall Jackson Christian, who was stationed at the S. A. A. F. about a year ago. Rice told of knowing the Colonel several years back when he played football. The same story that was told in this column a year ago, by the Colonel himself.

Then there were Clyde McBride, of the K. C. Star, Ernie Mehl, of the Star, Bill Biggers of the Des Moines Register, who incidentally is a good friend of A. B. Fletcher of the Sedalia-Marshall-Springfield-Des Moines bus lines. Davis Walsh of the Chicago American-Herald, Eddie Sowers of the Rolla Daily New Era, which Eddie tells us has been published under that name for eighty-four years.

There was Jimmy Kirkpatrick of the Missouri Brewers Association, formerly of the Warrensburg Star-Journal, and still has the smell of ink all over him.

I don't want to forget to tell you that Roy "Dutch" Kirchofer, former ball player in Sedalia, E. W. Brown, Chester A. "Chet" Wright, Charles J. McEniry, and Joe Williams saw at least three games, and expect to see more before the series ends.

The Sedalians partake in bridge while waiting for the next ball game time to roll around. I love to "kibitz".

WHEN I first met McBride and Mrs. McBride last Wednesday, the first thing that entered the mind of Mr. McBride, who attended Missouri Valley at Marshall and always interested in his visits to Sedalia, was "does Marshall and Sedalia still sneer at each other over those high school football games." He recalls high school games between the two cities and gets a kick out of telling about them.

One of the many sport writers made the remark in the Press Section about the Browns, "St. Louis has the best 4-F ball club in the Majors." To this remark a former sports writer now in the service setting back a ways, called down, "they may be 4-F's but they got a whale of a ball club."

A lady sitting in the section who has seen a lot of ball games, especially World Series called attention to the clean sportsmanship being shown by players on both teams. "Why when I came down here before, when an umpire had made a doubtful call the batter stepped back and fussed, and got rather nasty, but the players on these two teams are being perfect gentlemen. I like to see it, it makes baseball more interesting to me."

Rice when told of this remarked, "Well the managers of these two clubs have done wonderful things with the players, and they deserve the credit."

A visitor at the informal entertainment for the sports writers, given by the Browns Friday night was United States Senator Harry S. Truman, the guest of Tony Buford, secretary of the St. Louis club. The Senator visited with the writers and discussed the ball games, and had a most enjoyable time as he described "away from campaigning."

Cardinals Even Series By 5 To 1 On Saturday

Musial Hits A Homer, Double And Single

By ORLO ROBERTSON

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, St. Louis, Oct. 7.—(P)—The Cardinals finally showed their vaunted hitting power today, riding to a 5 to 1 victory over the Browns on the strength of 12 blows to draw a breast of the American League champions at two games each in the first all-St. Louis world series.

The National League champions launched an attack that sent Sig Jakucki, Browns' starting pitcher, to an early shower and continued at a lesser tempo against two relief hurlers.

Series Largest Crowd

The largest crowd of the series, 35,455, saw Stan Musial, Cardinal rightfielder, pace the offensive with three hits—a homer, double and single—a performance that drove in two of the winners' tallies. Danny Litwhiler, Cardinal leftfielder, held hitless until today, Johnny Hopp and Walker Cooper also connected with two blows each in the most potent hitting yet displayed in the series, heretofore dominated by the pitchers.

Harry Brecheen, slim southpaw from Broken Bow, Okla., making his first appearance in the series, pitched a steady game for the Cards, scattering nine Brownie hits and leaving ten base runners stranded. He was the first Cardinal pitcher to go the route since the series started.

Errorless For Cardinals

The Browns pecked away at Brecheen, who appeared in three games of the 1943 series with the Yanks and lost one, but they were unable to break through for a score until the eighth. The American Leaguers had men on the bases in every inning. The Cards have played errorless ball in every game of the series so far.

Al Hollingsworth, veteran southpaw whose last appearance was a two-hit relief job on Sept. 8, took over the mound duties at the start of the fourth. Using mostly slow stuff, he survived two innings before the Cardinals found the range for their final run.

This time Sanders opened up with a single and after Kurovski had gone down swinging, Slats Marion, weakened from a 102-degree fever last night, lashed a double, his third of the series, between left and center fields, scoring the lanky first baseman.

The Cardinal victory set the stage for another clash tomorrow between the opening game starters, big Mort Cooper and Denny Galehouse. Galehouse won the first decision, 2 to 1, although Cooper and his reliever, Blix Donnelly, held the Browns to two hits.

1st Inning Cardinals

Litwhiler struck out. Hopp singled back of second. Gutteridge got his hand on the ball but was unable to hold it. Musial hit the first pitch over the right field pavilion for a home run scoring Hopp ahead of him. Jakucki threw out Walker Cooper. Sanders called out on strikes.

Two runs, two hits, no errors, none left.

Browns
Gutteridge down swinging.

Kreevich singled. Hopp made a brilliant one-handed catch of Moore's fly near the right-center wall. Marion tossed out Stephens.
No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Second Inning Cardinals
Kreevich took Kurovski's fly. Stephens tossed out Marion, also threw out Verban.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Browns
Litwhiler made a running catch of Laabs' long fly in left. McQuinn singled for his sixth hit of the series.

Christman singled sending McQuinn to third.

Hayworth hit into a double play, Kurovski to Verban to Sanders.

No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Third Inning Cardinals

Musial beat out a hit between the pitcher's box and second base, Litwhiler stopping at second. Walker Cooper singled scoring Litwhiler and sending Musial to second. Gutteridge let Sanders' grounder go through him for an error scoring Musial and sending Cooper to third. Stephens threw out Kurovski.

Two runs, three hits, one error, two left.

Browns
The second run scored by the Cardinals in the third was unearned.

Clary batted for Jakucki and fled to Musial. Gutteridge singled over second.

Kreevich fled to Litwhiler. Moore struck out.

Fourth Inning Cardinals
Al Hollingsworth, veteran southpaw, went in to pitch for the Browns. Gutteridge took Marion's hopper and tossed him out. Verban fled to Kreevich. Christman made a nice backhand stop and threw out Brecheen.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Browns
Brecheen threw out Stephens. Laabs got his first hit of the series, a single to center. Brecheen tossed out McQuinn, Laabs moving to second. Christman looked at a third strike.

Fifth Inning Cardinals
Stephens threw out Litwhiler. Hopp fled to Laabs. Musial walked. Cooper forced Musial, Stephens to Gutteridge.

Sixth Inning Cardinals
Sanders caught one of Hollingsworth's soft pitches for a single to center. Kurovski swung at a third strike. Marion doubled between left and center scoring Sanders.

Verban fled to Kreevich. Hollingsworth threw out Brecheen. One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Browns
Hopp went back in deep center to take Moore's fly. Stephens also fled to Hopp. Laabs doubled to left. Litwhiler tried to trap the ball but overran it. McQuinn walked for the first base on balls off Brecheen. Christman forced McQuinn, Kurovski to Verban. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Seventh Inning Cardinals
Mancuso took over the catching duties for the Browns at the start of the seventh. Hayworth apparently was hurt when hit by a foul tip off Brecheen's bat in the sixth inning. Litwhiler singled to center but was out trying to stretch it. Kreevich to Gutteridge. Hopp singled to left. Musial doubled down the left field foul line, Hopp pulling up at third. Cooper was intentionally passed, filling the bases.

Sanders popped to Gutteridge. Kreevich backed up against the left center wall, nearly 400 feet from the plate, to take Kurovski's fly.

No runs, three hits, no errors, three left.

Browns
Musial came over near the right field foul line to take Mancuso's fly. Byrnes batted for Hollingsworth and after working the count to three and two walked. Gutteridge forced Byrnes, Kurovski to Verban. Brecheen tossed out Kreevich.

Eighth Inning Cardinals
Tex Shirley, a righthander, went in to pitch for the Browns. Marion struck out. Verban's bouncer went over Christman's head for a hit. Brecheen forced Verban, Shirley to Stephens. Litwhiler walked. Hopp fouled to Mancuso near the screen behind home plate.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Browns
Moore walked. Stephens singled off the right field screen, sending Moore to third.

Laabs hit into a double play, Marion to Verban to Sanders. Moore scoring with the Browns' first run. Marion tossed out McQuinn on an easy play.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

Ninth Inning Cardinals
Gutteridge threw out Musial. Walker Cooper tripled off the center field wall but was out trying to stretch it into a home run, Kreevich to Stephens to Mancuso. Sanders fled to Moore in right.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Browns
Christman called out on strikes. Mancuso singled. Tom Turner batted for Shirley and fled to Hopp in short center. Gutteridge walked. Kreevich forced Gutteridge, Verban to Marion.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Farmers Will Help Prevent Fire Hazards

Farmers deserve the unstinted praise and admiration of every citizen in our country.

Despite the shortage of skilled farm hands and the virtual impossibility of getting new machinery and the shortages of building materials, our patriotic, hard-working farmers have rallied magnificently to meet the urgent needs of the war, says J. U. Morris, county extension agent. They have produced more and more food to keep our armed forces, fighting allies, and home front workers, well fed.

But there is another never-ending battle the farmers must win to prevent a breakdown on the farm front. That is the fight to eliminate the frightful yearly loss in lives and property caused by destructive farm fires.

According to the National Fire Protection Association, there was an alarming increase in fires last year over 1942, and present indi-

1944 the total will climb even higher. Annually, more than 3,500 lives have been lost in farm fires. Truly a tragic story of horrible and unnecessary death.

But the whole story is not told in the number of lives lost, or buildings destroyed. Valuable crops, dairy herds, and farm lands have been laid waste. Production of food has been retarded. Even more tragic is the knowledge that most of the fires were caused by carelessness and negligence.

Time For Prevention

Fire Prevention Week, proclaimed by President Roosevelt for October 8-14, and sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is the ideal time for everyone—farmers and their wives and children—to learn the causes of these fires and how to prevent them. The knowledge gained in that week helps materially to curb fires—the farmer's ever-lurking foe.

There are eight major fire hazards and these can be stamped out. Some of the major steps to be taken or at least planned during Fire Prevention Week include: thorough cleaning and repairing of the heating system, including the chimney; recovering flammable roofing on the farm homes, barns, and other production buildings with fire-resistant roofing materials, when re-roofing is necessary; cleaning out all flammable rubbish from the attic, basement and outbuildings; installation of adequate lightning rods; repair and replacement of worn-out electrical equipment; inspection and recharging of fire-extinguishers.

These are just a few specific, but imperative, steps to be taken to eliminate fires. But they must be followed daily throughout the year if the farmer's and the nation's staggering economic loss from preventable fires is to be wiped out.

Do's and Don'ts About Fire Prevention

Fire Chief John Lueck today called upon all the citizens of Sedalia to join in the national observance of Fire Prevention Week, sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association and which will be held from October 8-14 by proclamation of President Roosevelt.

Calling fire fighting a science and fire prevention a matter of common sense, Chief Lueck pointed to the ascending curve of fire losses in the past few years, and urged home owners, factory workers, industrial leaders and business men to join together to rout out the fire hazards during Fire Prevention Week and to keep them out.

"What are the important fire hazards? There are just seven and if every one will concentrate on these hazards, we will automatically eliminate at least 90 per cent of the fires which last year burned our homes at the rate of 1,000 a day."

Do's and Don'ts

Here is the list of DO'S and DON'TS compiled by Chief Lueck: DO clean and repair defective and dirty heating plants, including the flues and the chimney. DO replace flammable wood shingles when re-roofing is necessary with fire-resistant asphalt shingles, or some similar material like asbestos, slate or tile.

DO repair frayed electric cords, don't run them under rugs and always disconnect appliances after using them.

DON'T be careless with matches and smoking. Keep matches in metal containers and out of reach of children. Never smoke in bed; have plenty of ash trays and put out the cigarette or cigar—don't let them smoulder. DON'T use flammable cleaning fluid or keep in the home. DON'T use wood or paper cartons for ashes—use metal containers. DON'T allow papers, rags, mattresses, and the like, to accumulate. Get these out and into your local salvage committee. Good housekeeping is one of the best forms of fire defense.

Act Now

"I urge every citizen to take these steps now to protect the life of his family and his home from the ravages of fire. For fire strikes quickly and without mercy when our defenses are down—when we cease to be vigilant—when we fail to practice simple precautions. Is this too much to ask of anyone when his life and his home are at stake?"

"Of course," Chief Lueck said, "a few fires are unavoidable, despite all precautions, so we recommend that every family delegate at least one member to learn how to turn in an alarm accurately and without delay should fire break out. Many times the alarm comes in too late to be effective or is transmitted in such a garbled manner that the department is not informed of the exact location of the fire. When fire breaks out, call the fire department at once.

"The Fire Department is ready during Fire Prevention Week to provide any interested citizens with further information on the causes of fire and the best ways to prevent them and control them at the source," Chief Lueck concluded.

Our Soldier Sons Want
ROOSEVELT

We owe it to them to KEEP HIM ON THE JOB

Eight out of every 10 men fighting for America on the bloody battlefields of the world want Roosevelt re-elected. The President's Old Guard Republican enemies know this... and are basing their hopes to defeat him on a small soldier vote—on the probability that members of the armed forces will be too busy with bullets to think about ballots. We who guard the Home Front must not allow this to happen. And it will not happen if we remember the trust reposed in us by our fighting sons... if we will go to the polls Tuesday, November 7th, and vote for President Roosevelt and the entire Democratic Ticket.

Good Week For Stock Market

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The stock market today concluded its best week since early July with specialties continuing to attract the principal buying.

From Monday on various groups took their turn on the rising side and the averages enjoyed their widest upturn Thursday with the first million-share session since Sept. 7.

Revival of speculative and investment demand was attributed partly to waning of reconversion fears as a longer European war seemed in the cards, to peace-time business prospects, earnings, dividends a little core inflation psychology and last, but not least, broadening Wall Street optimism regarding the November election.

Rails had their periods of strength after the Interstate Commerce Commission was petitioned to reinstate 1942 freight rate increases which were suspended last year. Broad expansion of retail spending gave merchandising securities a lift. Helpful also was the sale of a stock exchange seat for $75,000, up $3,000 at the highest level since 1938.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up 1 of a point at 55.6, its fourth successive advance, and on the week showed a net gain of 9 where it was only 8 under the July top. Transfers for the short proceedings amounted to 446,915 shares compared with 502,290 last Saturday.

Corn And Barley In Slight Decline

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Corn and barley were weak in a light futures trade today but wheat, rye and oats rallied near the close to show gains ranging from a quarter to half a cent.

At the close wheat was 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower than yesterday's finish, December $1.65 1/2. Corn was off 1/4 to 1/2, December $1.12 1/2. Oats were 1/4 to 1/2 higher, December 63 1/2. Rye was unchanged to 1/2 higher, December $1.08 1/2. Barley was off 1/4 to 1/2, December $1.03 1/2.
